ERA BOARD DIRECTOR ELECTIONS

NEW DIRECTORS FOR NOMINATION

LINDSAY Watson

Lindsay Watson (RPBio), has over 20 years of aquatic ecology, with a career spanning senior fisheries management and environmental consulting focused on Elk River systems.

Lindsay offers rare insight into the intersection of industrial operations and watershed health to ERA's mission in the Elk Valley.

ERA BOARD DIRECTOR ELECTIONS

SHELBY Knudsen

Shelby is an accomplished storyteller and communicator who currently works closely with our partners at Yaqit ʔa-knuq̓i'it First Nation.

Her deep roots and connections in the region, platform as a trusted local story teller, and demonstrated commitment to celebrating and preserving the Elk Valley's natural environment make Shelby a compelling nominee for the board.

ERA BOARD DIRECTOR ELECTIONS

MARK Feldberg

With 30 years of academic and professional experience in fisheries as a conservation professional and fishing guide, Mark currently operates as a licensed outfitter and professional fishing guide working in British Columbia and Southern Alberta.

Mark offers a voice and perspective for recreational anglers and commercial fishing guides to the table.
